Suite Journey is an eclectic, genre-defying duo of Billie Woods and Deborah Schmidt. But, the music falls mostly into the singer/songwriter, folk and world music categories. The duo performs originals plus a few covers.

To add to the out-of-the-box allure of Suite Journey, the instrumentation is also quite eclectic— Billie on piano and Celtic harp, Deborah on classical guitar, and both women on Native American flutes and vocals. Add a couple of cameos with Tibetan singing bowls and yak bells, and voila — Suite Journey (www.suitejourney.com)!

On Sunday, September 18, 2016, Suite Journey will be presenting a musical Tibetan travelogue based on their recent journey to Nepal and Tibet. Performing songs from their latest album about the journey, “TIBET Land of my Tears”, Suite Journey will also tell stories, and show artifacts and slides to engage the senses and give the listener as much of the sojourners' experience as possible.

The mission of Suite Journey is to help alleviate the oppressive conditions inside Tibet and preserve Tibetan culture. 50% of all CD and merchandise sales are donated to reputable Tibetan causes.
